

Green Healthcare that Makes Good Cents

Green Initiatives for NYC Healthcare Facilities

August 9th, 2011 • 10 AM - 12 PM

Pratt Manhattan • 144 W. 14th Street • Room 213

The Green Healthcare Forum will bring together leaders and healthcare professionals to discuss how healthcare facilities in New York City can improve energy efficiency, reduce operating costs, and contribute to a healthier and more sustainable environment. The opening session in the series will give an overview of climate change impacts on New York City and also provide a snapshot of initiatives from the city, state, and other agencies that can help healthcare facilities become more energy efficient and environmentally friendly.

Keynote and Moderator: Neil Chambers, Founder and CEO of Chambers Design

Confirmed Speakers:

Jennifer Kearney, Partner, Gotham 360 LLC

Ya-Roo Yang, an Independent Financial Research Consultant

Susan Gunn, Account Executive, Energy Efficiency Program, Con Edison

Natale DiDonato, Project Manager, Energy Services, Luthin Associates

Jay-E Emmingham, NYSERDA Senior Energy Smart Communities Coordinator

Register online at prattcenter.net/event/green-healthcare-forum-1

SPONSORED BY:

chambersdesign